

Professor Keith Percy is Professor Emeritus of Continuing Education, Lancaster University. Positions at Lancaster University included Head of the Department of Continuing Education for decades and Director of the School of Lifelong Learning and Widening Participation.

One of the founding members of the AEA in 1985. Co-editor of the Journal of Educational Gerontology (later Education and Ageing) 1985 – 2000. Editor in Chief of the re-founded (2010) International Journal of Education and Ageing.

Has managed AEA's participation in three EU-funded Grundtvig projects since 2012 – ForAge: Building on European experience; Memory in Later Life; Wellbeing in Later Life: education, creativity and physical activities

